

Collaborations with Non-Profit Organizations

Unlimited Possibilities

Unlimited Possibilities (UP) supports more than 5,300 children and families in Orange County, providing essential services that bridge developmental gaps and empower families of children with disabilities. Westcliff University plays a pivotal role by sponsoring the annual iCanShine Bike Camp, hosted by UP, where children with disabilities learn to ride bicycles, fostering independence and confidence. This partnership reflects Westcliff's commitment to enhancing community initiatives through critical funding and active volunteer engagement. Furthermore, Westcliff collaborates with UP at their Pediatric Therapy Center in Irvine, Calif., where volunteers facilitate crafts and play, promoting social interaction and development. These contributions align with sustainability goals by fostering inclusive community practices and supporting the well-being of vulnerable populations, ultimately creating a more equitable and resilient society.

Laura's House

Laura's House offers vital services to more than 915,000 residents in Orange County, assisting some 3,400 victims and their families annually through a 24-hour crisis hotline, emergency shelter, transitional housing, counseling, legal advocacy, and youth education programs.

Westcliff University actively contributes to this mission by organizing an annual donation drive, collecting unwrapped gifts for clients. This initiative not only brightens the holiday season for families affected by domestic violence but also aligns with sustainability goals by promoting community support and resilience. By fostering partnerships and encouraging generosity, Westcliff helps create a more equitable and supportive environment, reinforcing the importance of addressing social challenges sustainably.

Inclusive Sports Foundation

Inclusive Sports connects students with disabilities and high school/ college athletes to create engaging and rewarding experiences. Westcliff partners with Inclusive Sports Foundation annually to host a free carnival-style event where students with disabilities from local high schools are invited to engage in sports activities to build their confidence, foster camaraderie, and develop relationships. Our Westcliff athletic teams lead exciting drills and games to bring joy and fun to all participants.
